EARLY BIRD TOUR
(For those who arrive in Lake Placid Thursday afternoon ONLY)

Tom Brown is hosting a ride for early arrivals - departing Friday morning from the Lake House.

Tom says: We're going back in time today. At least it will feel that way when we reach our lunch location. Charlie's Inn hasn't changed one bit in decades, and there-in lies the charm. Jill, our hostess at Charlie's will be doing the same for us as last year with a limited menu that will have something for everybody.

We will have a relaxed start time of 10:00AM from the hotel parking lot and it will be a 40-minute ride to our one and only bio-break of the morning. Restrooms are few and far between in the Adirondacks, and most are one holers, so boys and girls will be sharing. After the bio-break it'll be roughly one and a half hours driving time to Charlie's Inn. Group leaders be advised the driveway to Charlie's is easy to miss. If you cross the railroad tracks you've gone too far, turn around and the sign will be on your right.

After lunch it's only about a half an hour back to the hotel and downtown Lake Placid.

Saturday, May 18, 2019 – In New York & Vermont

Day's Itinerary Summary

The following is a summary of the day's activities based on the suggested route. See the detailed route map for the specific suggested driving directions for the day.

Tom says: Today's ride will cover some new - and some familiar roads. Starting at 9:00AM in the hotel parking lot we will pick our way across part of the Adirondacks to Vermont, where we will be going through Appalachian Gap to our lunch location at Fire & Ice, in Middlebury. Unlike yesterday, this restaurant is totally in the 21st century. Our one and only bio-break this morning is a bladder challenging 1.5 hours into the trip so plan your coffee accordingly. Group leaders will be briefed on earlier spots that could work for small groups, but which could not handle all of us. Total driving time to our Lunch location is approx. 3.5 hours. After lunch we head back to NY via some of the roads we just travelled, but mostly on new roads.

Our return to Lake Placid will take 1.75 hours.

Sunday, May 19, 2019 – in New York

Day's Itinerary Summary

The following is a summary of the day's activities based on the suggested route. See the detailed route map for the specific suggested driving directions for the day.

Tom says: Today is the day for the best roads. We will leave the hotel parking lot at 9:00AM and drive for 1.5 hours to our first bio break, then on to Long Lake, NY where we will do lunch at the Adirondack Hotel, another time-gone-by sort of place that is new to us this year. Total driving time to lunch is 2.5 hours. In the town of Long Lake there is an almost must-see sort of store (Hoss's Country Corner) <http://www.hosscountrycorner.com/> after lunch those who wish may head there, or take a Seaplane sightseeing tour. As of this writing I'm unsure if the seaplanes will be operating for the season yet. Or you can return to Lake Placid with the group, which will take about 1.25 hours.

There will be time to relax and shop in the afternoon, before we assemble for the group photo at 6:30 and the Closing Banquet.

Approx Time	Km's Travelled		Location	Comments
7:00 – 8:00 AM		Breakfast	Dancing Bears Restaurant	Across road from Lake House (or choose one of the other many local breakfast eateries)

Monday/Tuesday, May 20/21, 2019 - Return

Day's Itinerary Summary

For those returning home on Monday

- Depart for home at your leisure.
- Consider teaming up with fellow club members who are leaving at about the same time.
- Design your own route home. Some suggestions...
- If you are looking to get back to Canada ASAP, consider crossing the border in upstate New York.
- If you are looking for a scenic drive home, consider driving through Adirondack State Park in NY.
- If your final destination is in Ontario west of Toronto, consider crossing the border at Buffalo, and avoiding driving through Toronto during a holiday weekend. In that case, Interstate I90 is a quick drive with plenty of rest stops.
- If you have some extra time, consider a 1 to 2-hour detour to one of the Finger Lakes.

For those that are staying over on Monday

- There are no pre-planned activities for the day.
- Many of you are being moved to Lakefront rooms for the night- courtesy of the establishment. (These are more expensive rooms than Lake House – don't get used to them! Lol)
- There are many towns and villages with sights to see and stuff to buy. If you are looking for a short excursion, consider downtown Lake Placid itself if you haven't had time yet.
- Enjoy yourself and drive safely!
